

Bloomberg

October 28, 2013
NEWSLETTER

RED DOT NYC: New Orleans in Flatiron; Landmarc Chef at Viceroy

By: Arie Shapira

Bo's in Flatiron (opened Oct. 25)

- * 60-seat New Orleans-inspired restaurant from chef/partner Todd Mitgang, of Crave Fishbar in Midtown East, and partner Steven Kristel, who both run South Edison in Montauk
- * Name pays tribute to Andrew "Bo" Young III, son of Civil Rights Movement icon Andrew Young II and a partner w/ Kristel on several ventures
- * Starters: Crispy alligator fried in tempura-like batter w/ red bell pepper and chili aioli; torched red snapper crudo w/ crispy okra, pickled chanterelle and homemade hot sauce
- * Entrees: "Grilled Gulf Shrimp Fra Diavolo" w/ cheesy grits, upland cress, roasted chili relish; curried goat w/ jasmine rice, spiced cauliflower, brussel sprouts, chili-ginger oil
- * Cocktails from Jeremy Strawn, of Black Hound Bar & Lounge and Mulberry Project, include New Orleans classics such as the Sazerac and Ramos Gin Fizz as well as a pickle martini program
- * Open for dinner Mon.-Thurs. 5:30pm-11pm, Fri.-Sat. 5:30pm-12am
- * Info: 6 W. 24th St. b/w Fifth and Sixth Ave. (previously Ottimo); 212-234-2373

Website: <http://www.bosrestaurant.com/>

